Why are we so good at spit roast catering?

Don't risk the success of your function to chance. All of our succulent spit roasted meats are prepared before your function using our unique sous vide cooking methods. We final roast over flames at our kitchen, or at your function. This means piping hot, tender, juicy and perfectly-cooked tasty roasted meats each time and every time.

You will not find better spit roasted meats anywhere. This is a promise. We have our own licensed boning rooms where we treat your specially chosen meats with the utmost of care. We trim, marinate, slow cook in humidity controlled environments and then final roast. We do it all ourselves with quality controlled methods. We have been using this method for over 30 years.

Visit our website for more details of our cooking and catering methods.
